

LATEST NEWS FROM THE CHICAGO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

PREPARING FOR THEIR LAST STAND

Roosevelt Adherents Will Fight Report of the Credentials Committee.

HAVE SEVERAL PLANS IN COURSE OF FORMATION

One Scheme Is to Nominate Colonel at Close of Present Convention.

Chicago, June 21.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt indicated that under certain conditions he might withdraw from the Republican party to take the lead in the formation of a new party. "If the people want a progressive party I'll be in it," he said. Some of the colonel's supporters urged their associates to precipitate the crisis in the Republican national convention at the earliest opportunity. More conservative councils finally prevailed and it was decided there should be no "bolt" from the plan of the Roosevelt delegates to make their last stand on the report of the credentials committee.

If the seventy-eight delegates they charge are fraudulent are seated the Roosevelt forces will remain in the convention until the end, but will not vote.

It is their plan then to proceed to the nomination of the colonel in the Coliseum and claim regularity for him. Colonel Roosevelt has not definitely committed himself to the latter part of this plan. He is considering the advisability of delaying action for several weeks and then summoning an entirely new convention. This would not be held until after the Democrats have acted in Baltimore.

The national convention itself marked time waiting for the committee on credentials to conclude its consideration of the contested delegates.

It was predicted that the nominating stage of the convention might not be reached until late Saturday. A wide latitude of debate is to be allowed in the convention.

Colonel Roosevelt said emphatically he would make the independent fight for the presidency if he was convinced there was a popular demand for him. "I shall have to see if there is a popular demand for me to run," he said.

Wants Sentiment of People.

He added that the situation was such a kaleidoscopic one that it would be impossible for him to outline what he would do. It might take some time, he said, to ascertain the sentiment of the people and learn whether there was a reasonable basis for the formation of a progressive party.

One of Colonel Roosevelt's associates who talked with him said that he had declared his willingness to run for president if any considerable number of the delegates wished him to, even if he did not carry a single electoral district in the country. The colonel himself said he believed he would be able to count on the support of the bulk of the Republicans in the Western states and that he would expect to derive considerable strength from the Democrats.

The agreement finally arrived at was reached at a caucus in which were two representatives from each of the states having Roosevelt delegates, as well as those states from which the Roosevelt candidates for seats in the convention have been excluded.

"The caucus passed unanimously a resolution introduced by Henry Allen of Kansas," said Colonel Roosevelt in explaining the situation. "This resolution was to the effect that the Republican party would not submit to having the nomination for president determined by theft and if the convention declined to seat the delegates fraudulently unseated by the convention, the Roosevelt delegates would decline to be bound by any action of the convention."

"A second resolution was passed later stipulating that the Roosevelt delegates would take part in the convention if the seventy-eight delegates who were entitled were seated, but were not seated in the convention and remained in it."

The plan of action adopted by the Roosevelt leaders is an abrupt change from the position previously taken by Colonel Roosevelt and his closest associates, but he denied it was an admission of weakness on their part, or that their decision not to bolt was because they could not obtain the support of a sufficient number of delegates.

WILLIAM B. MCKINLEY.

Manager of Taft's Campaign Claims Victory Is Complete.

TAFT HEADQUARTERS SERENELY CONFIDENT

Leaders Abandon Work Among the Delegates.

Chicago, June 21.—The convention headquarters of President Taft has practically suspended all effort so far as working among the delegates to the convention is concerned. Although the constantly recurring gossip of a compromise candidate disturbed the Taft managers at times they professed to be absolutely confident that the delegates who voted with President Taft on the first two votes in the convention would be firm to the end.

After emphatically declaring that President Taft would be renominated Director McKinley in a statement said:

"It is perfectly natural that simultaneously with the general knowledge of the complete defeat of Roosevelt many of his former followers are talking with sufficient energy to create rumors of 'compromise' candidates. These rumors have nothing back of them except the general desire to draw attention away from the one great accomplishment of the Republican national convention to date—the overwhelming defeat of Roosevelt."

"President Taft's strength in the convention has grown from its first moment, and the acknowledged defeat of Roosevelt is adding to it hourly. There is no one who questions Mr. Taft's complete control of the situation and there is not the slightest possibility of even a momentary consideration of a 'compromise' candidate. There will be no such candidate."

TAFT IN CONTEST TO STAY

President Determined Not to Agree to Compromise.

Washington, June 20.—A report from Chicago reached the White House saying President Taft had authorized Senator Murray Crane to release the Taft delegates to the national Republican convention following Colonel Roosevelt's reported action in releasing his.

President Taft immediately denied the report and after he had talked with Senator Crane over the long distance.

The agreement finally arrived at was reached at a caucus in which were two representatives from each of the states having Roosevelt delegates, as well as those states from which the Roosevelt candidates for seats in the convention have been excluded.

"The caucus passed unanimously a resolution introduced by Henry Allen of Kansas," said Colonel Roosevelt in explaining the situation. "This resolution was to the effect that the Republican party would not submit to having the nomination for president determined by theft and if the convention declined to seat the delegates fraudulently unseated by the convention, the Roosevelt delegates would decline to be bound by any action of the convention."

"A second resolution was passed later stipulating that the Roosevelt delegates would take part in the convention if the seventy-eight delegates who were entitled were seated, but were not seated in the convention and remained in it."

The plan of action adopted by the Roosevelt leaders is an abrupt change from the position previously taken by Colonel Roosevelt and his closest associates, but he denied it was an admission of weakness on their part, or that their decision not to bolt was because they could not obtain the support of a sufficient number of delegates.

SENATOR W. M. CRANE.

Telephone White House officials announced that Senator Crane had denied having made any such statement. It was said the president's conversation with Senator Crane had strengthened his determination not to agree to any compromise.

The Old, Old Story Boiled Down. She (early in the evening)—Good evening, Mr. Sampson. Same She (late in the evening)—Good night, George.

Chicago, 3:30 p. m.—Before the vote was taken on the Alabama contest, Governor Hadley offered a resolution that the contested delegates should not vote.

Delegate Wadsworth, of New York, raised a point of order.

Chairman Root overruled Wadsworth, giving the contested delegates opportunity to vote on the Hadley motion.

Chicago, 3:32 p. m.—The first clash in the convention this afternoon came on the vote to table the minority report for the majority report on the ninth Alabama contest, in which decision the credentials committee was in favor of seating the two Taft delegates.

The motion was tabled. The vote was 599 to 498 and the Taft forces secured another victory in the test of strength on the floor of the convention.

Chicago, June 21st.—Wadsworth V. Wilson submitted majority report of credentials committee to the convention. A motion was made to table the minority report which was carried by a vote of 659 to 498. Then a motion was made that the majority report be adopted which carried by a vote of 605 to 464.

Special to Dispatch:

Chicago, June 21, 1:50 P. M.—The committee on credentials has only reached the Kentucky contest. Chairman Root demands an immediate report of the credential committee and calls the convention to order at 12:30 P. M.

The majority report on the Alabama contest is presented. R. R. McCormick protests against the majority report and presents a minority report.

Chairman Root rules there can be no minority report.

Taft Odds Are Two to One.

New York, June 21.—Odds of two to one in favor of William H. Taft's nomination were quoted in Wall street. This marked a decided swing in favor of the president who, before Tuesday's roll call at Chicago on the temporary chairmanship, was not a favorite in the betting.

Illinois Delegates Won't Bolt.

Chicago, June 21.—The Illinois delegation held a meeting at the conclusion of which it was voted 56 to 1 not to follow a possible bolt.

The First Steel Skyscraper.

The first steel skeleton building ever erected was known as the Tower building and stood on lower Broadway, New York city. When the architect submitted the plans for it to the building department in 1888 the members of the department were so puzzled that they had to turn the whole matter over to a special board of expert examiners. For the first time in the world a building had been designed in which the entire weight of walls and floors was supported by the steel skeleton, and the building laws contained no provision for such a structure. But the experts accepted the plans, and the modern skyscraper was born.

COLONEL MAKES POSITION CLEAR

Entered Race and Appealed to the People on Certain Great Principles.

SAYS NINETY DELEGATES WERE STOLEN FROM HIM

Willing to Run as a Progressive if He Does Not Get an Electoral Vote.

Chicago, June 21.—Theodore Roosevelt, before his political advisers and a personally selected number of delegates instructed for him, read a statement of his position in the Republican nomination fight and left it to them to decide what position they would take in the struggle.

Mr. Roosevelt called before him two delegates from each of the states which has supported him and the leaders in the campaign. After outlining his position, declaring that he would continue his fight on principles he had outlined from the beginning, the colonel left the room and the delegates and leaders sat down to deliberate what should be done.

Following is the statement, in part, issued by Mr. Roosevelt:

"The time has come when I feel that I must make certain statements, not merely to honestly elected members of the Republican national convention, but to the rank and file of the Republican party and to the honest people of the entire nation."

"I went into the fight for certain great principles. At the moment I can only serve these principles by continuing to bear the personal responsibility which their advocacy has brought to me."

Appealed Direct to People.

"On behalf of these principles I made my appeal straight to the people themselves. I went before them. I made my argument in full; and every move I made was in the open without concealment of any kind. The opposition to me was extraordinarily bitter, for I was opposed by the practically solid phalanx of the big, conscienceless political bosses, with back of them the practically solid phalanx of the big, conscienceless beneficiaries of special privilege in every form and of course the many big newspapers which are controlled by or in the interest of the bosses and special privilege."

"Nevertheless, in the appeal to the people, I won. In many of the Republican states and of the Democratic states where there is a large and real Republican party, primaries of different kinds were held and a substantial expression of the will of the people was obtained."

"In these primary states some three million voters, the rank and file of the Republican party, cast their votes; I beat Mr. Taft considerably over two to one. In these states I obtained about six delegates to Mr. Taft's one. Nearly three-fourths of my delegates came from these primary states where the people had a chance to express themselves."

Analyzes Taft's Strength.

"Mr. Taft's strength, as indicated by the two roll calls already taken, consisted chiefly, aside from his ninety stolen delegates, of the nearly solid delegations from the territories and from the Southern states in which there is no real Republican party—South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, and of Northern states like New York, where the people had no chance to express themselves at primaries and where the delegates were picked by the bosses."

"In spite of these odds against me I obtained a clear majority of all the delegates elected to the convention. In my campaign I again and again stated that if the people decided against me I would have nothing to say; but that if they decided for me and the politicians then robbed me of the victory I would not silently and tamely acquiesce. It was already evident that my opponents, with Mr. Taft's encouragement, intended to beat me by foul means if they could not do so by fair means."

"I hope that the honestly elected majority will at once insist upon the immediate purging of the roll in its entirety and not piecemeal, by the convention. If this is not accomplished I hope the honestly elected delegates will decline all further connection with a convention whose action is now determined, and has hitherto been determined, by a majority which is made a majority only by the action of the fraudulent delegates whom the convention has refused to strike from the rolls."

Will See Campaign Through.

"If the honestly elected majority of the convention choose to proceed with business and to nominate me as the candidate of the real Republican party I shall accept. If some among them fear to take such a stand, and the remainder choose to inaugurate a movement to nominate me for the presidency as a progressive on a progressive platform, and if in such event the general feeling among progressives favors my being nominated I shall accept. In either case I shall make my appeal to every honest citizen in the nation; and I shall fight the campaign through, win or lose, even if I do not get a single electoral vote."

"I do not wish a single man to support me from any personal feeling for me. I have nothing to offer any man; any man who supports me will do so without hope of gain and at the risk of personal loss and discomfort. But, if, having this in view, those fervent in this great fight for the rule of the people and for social and industrial justice, which has now also become a clear cut fight for honesty against dishonesty, fraud and theft, desire me to lead the fight, I will do so."

"There can be no cause for which it is of less consequence what happens to the individual himself, provided only that he valiantly does his duty in the forward movement. I shall make my appeal to all honest men, East and West, North and South, and gladly abide the result, whatever that result may be."

CHEER CANDIDATES WHEN SESSION ENDS

Pandemonium Breaks Loose in the Convention Hall.

Chicago, June 21.—Five minutes was the entire duration of the two sessions of the Republican national convention with a recess of four hours between. The first session convened at noon and lasted four minutes; the second lasted one minute.

The feature of the noon session was the prayer of Very Rev. Walter T. Sumner, dean of the Protestant Episcopal Cathedral of Saints Peter and Paul of Chicago, and the applause which followed it.

The afternoon session was remarkable not so much for the fact that it lasted a bit less than one minute, as for the extraordinary conditions which ensued upon its adjournment.

Almost with the fall of Chairman Root's gavel there broke out a pandemonium of cheering. Its immediate occasion was the effort of a man in the west gallery to swing the great gathering into unison with the cry "We want Teddy."

Almost immediately the La Follette, Hadley and Cummins enthusiasts began an opposition turmoil, with the result that within less than a minute there was simply one meaningless chaos of noise. Presently a group of men in the south gallery, back of the platform, brought four or five megaphones into play with "We want Taft."

GENERAL BRAGG IS DEAD

Commanded Famous Iron Brigade in Civil War.

Fond du Lac, Wis., June 21.—Following an illness of several years, during which time he has valiantly fought death as he did the enemy during the Civil war, General Edward Bragg, commander of the famous Iron brigade during the Rebellion, is dead. He was eighty-five years old.

In the passing of General Bragg the United States has lost one of its truly great characters. Aside from his noted military career he was a politician of the keenest sort. The general served in congress from Wisconsin for many years, and reached his pinnacle of fame in the political world when, in seconding the nomination of Grover Cleveland in 1884, he used the famous phrase: "We love him for the enemies he has made."

General Bragg was born in Unadilla, N. Y., Feb. 20, 1827.

Dixon Says Leaders Are Looking for Compromise Candidate.

Chicago, June 21.—Senator Dixon issued a statement claiming that the Taft leaders, "Barnes, Penrose, Crane and the other so-called Taft leaders," had determined not to nominate Mr. Taft and were "dickering for a compromise candidate."

The statement declared that ten instructed Taft delegates from one state had offered to vote for Hughes, that propositions had been made from the Taft managers to friends of Senator Cummins and that Governor Hadley had been approached with offers to sacrifice Taft if he would accept the nomination.

"They are looking for a new man," said Senator Dixon. "They have made a martyr out of Roosevelt and when you make a martyr out of a man he wins."

IOWANS WILL STAND FIRM

Senator Kenyon Says Delegates May Not Bolt.

Chicago, June 21.—Iowa's ten delegates who are pledged to Senator A. B. Cummins will not bolt the convention, according to Senator W. S. Kenyon of Iowa, campaign manager for Cummins.

"The Cummins delegation never will bolt," said Senator Kenyon. "This talk about bolting ought to be set down on. Let the two factions fight it out in the convention."

Credentials Committee Is Making Very Slow Progress.

PERFECT QUIET PREVAILS

Roosevelt Forces Will Center Contest on Three States.

Chicago, June 21.—Working slowly through the list of contested delegates referred to it by the Republican national committee the credentials committee seated twenty-two Taft delegates. This included twelve from Florida, against whom the Roosevelt men made no contest, and two were seated unanimously.

Of the seventy-two contested delegates included in Governor Hadley's list of those whom he claimed the national committee "unfairly" endorsed the following have been approved by the credentials committee:

Alabama, Ninth district, 2.
Arkansas, Fifth district, 2.
Arizona, delegates at large, 6.

Perfect quiet prevailed in the committee. In an effort to hasten the committee work Jesse A. Tollerton of Missouri and Hugh T. Halbert of Minnesota offered a plan of the Roosevelt forces to abandon temporarily all other contests except those of California, Texas and Washington.

The Taft forces defeated this motion and insisted that the committee take up all contests in order. It was expected that the Roosevelt forces would make no hard fight on any but the three states named.

The cases disposed of showed the Roosevelt men to have a maximum strength of fifteen, the vote being 33 to 15 against the seating of the Arizona Roosevelt delegation.

The motion to make the temporary organization permanent was made by Governor Pennewell of Delaware.

MAY CONTINUE INTO SUNDAY

Taft Men Plan to Rush Work of the Convention.

Chicago, June 21.—A general conference of the Taft managers was held, at which a program for the sessions of the convention was discussed. It was determined to get to work promptly on the report of the credentials committee. While there is no prospect that a complete report will be ready when the convention is called to order the committee will present a partial report, which the convention will take up immediately. The credentials committee will then resume consideration of contests and report piecemeal to the convention.

The plan of the Taft managers is to hold day and night sessions and press the work, so that nominations can be reached Saturday and the convention be brought to a close late Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

A move is on at St. Cloud to abolish the free lunch feature in saloons and an ordinance to that effect is before the city council. The saloon men are not see where he could help matters

along at Chicago and despite the revelt fight he has remained on the job at the state capitol.

The new primary law is to be tried in the courts at once in order to but who is to bring the matter to the

The continuation of the national republican convention now in session at Chicago until Monday is predicted in the press dispatches. Our advice to the convention would be to fix it as soon as possible and adjourn, fore-spots are being added with each day's delay and the limit has about been reached.

Judge Stanton is having the usual difficulty of keeping away from the democratic nomination for governor.
The democratic friends of Judge Stanton in the northern part of the state would like to see him actively in the field, but he is so well satisfied with his present surroundings that he says "nay" to all comers.

Frank M. Eddy wants to go back to congress and has filed for the republican nomination for congressman at-large from Minnesota. This was the position to which Alva Eastman aspired until Congressman Lindbergh announced his candidacy for the United States senate and then Mr.
Eastman came out for Mr. Lind-bergh's seat in congress from the Sixth district.

The Menanga Journal demands, in the name of the people of that vicinity, that the governor reconvene the legislature in extra session for the enactment of an equitable legislative re-apportionment measure on a population basis. While there is no disguising the fact that the people of northern Minnesota demand the same thing there is absolutely no use of calling the legislature in session
again for that purpose—what is needed is a new legislature in order to get what the people desire in this direction and the next regular legislature will be elected on that plan.

Mrs. J. F. Townsend of this city. The song has been published by a big

The song is especially designed for

MUSIC DURING S. F. OF L. WEEK

Brainerd City Band and Unity Band of Northeast Brainerd Played Well

BOTH MARCHED IN PARADE

Short Sketches of Each Musical Organization—What the Bands are Doing

The Minnesota State Federation of Labor evidenced another thing, that is outside of labor matters, which was the superior quality of music this town is capable of producing. No town of equal or even larger size can make a better showing in the way of bands than Brainerd. On all sides was heard nothing but praise of these two organizations.

The Brainerd City band marched at the head of the procession Monday evening and was followed by the Unity Band of Northeast Brainerd. Both made a remarkably good showing and their music pleased the delegates of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor, the other visitors and the citizens.

Pictures are not on hand of both bands and so there is published the picture of the director of the Brainerd City band and the picture of the Unity band.

The Brainerd City band was organized in 1906. Dr. F. J. Sykora, the present director, took charge of the band in June of last year. During the winter months there were constant rehearsals and an extensive repertoire was worked up. Dr. Sykora, whose only hobby is that of having a good band and whose only amusement is practically that of teaching these musicians, has built up an organization that is the pride of the city and whose playing has been widely commented on. The band now has 32 men, all paid musicians. The prominent feature of the band is its reed section, one-third of the instruments being reed and thus giving the music a particularly mellow effect. Rehearsals are held every Monday evening and during the summer months concerts are given every Wednesday evening in the depot park. A movement is now under way to build a band stand in Gregory park.

Dr. F. J. Sykora, Director of the Brainerd City Band

In 1903 Dr. Sykora was the director of the city band known as the Brainerd Marine band. This band distinguished itself by winning prizes in both the amateur and professional classes at the Jubour carnival of the Elks in the Twin Cities. The band captured the $500 cash and gold medal first prize in the amateur class and then had the sublime confidence to enter the professional lists and surprised everybody by walking away with the second prize in that contest, competing with 25 musical organizations. There is no need of saying that after such a performance Brainerd's band was known all over the state of Minnesota.

The Brainerd City band today possesses a repertoire which includes standard classical selections, overtures and operas, medleys and the music in lighter vein, including also syncopated harmonies or what is popularly known as "rag-time." With such a repertoire this band is bound to please any kind of an audience.

The Unity band of Northeast Brainerd was organized on February 7, 1911. Under the leadership of S. V. Long good progress has been made. The band has played for numerous programs, church socials, lodge functions, and its outside engagements included the Pequot county fair week and the opening of the Bijou theater at Crosby. They took part in the Decoration day ceremonies and their music was also a feature of the parade of organized labor on the first evening of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor convention.

A movement has been started to erect a bandstand in Northeast Brainerd and Mrs. Emma E. Forsyth has offered the ground for the site. The band has inaugurated a series of concerts during the summer months, playing each Friday evening on Kindred street near the B. Kaatz & Son store. The average age of the musicians is 16 years. Howard Ebinger, who plays solo alto, is only 12 years old.

The band instrumentation is as follows: S. V. Long, E. flat cornet; Earl Long, solo B flat cornet; Ed. Ebinger, solo B flat cornet; Walter Roney, first B flat cornet; Ed. Roxe-

MASHER ROUTED BY YOUNG GIRL

In Episode at Spokane 18 Year Old Miss Anna McGinnis Shows Herself a Heroine

SHE WIELDS HER HAND BAG

Daughter of J. F. McGinnis, Formerly of Brainerd, Knocks a Masher Into the Gutter

Spokane papers give publicity to the heroism of Miss Anna McGinnis, the daughter of J. F. McGinnis, formerly of Brainerd, who demonstrated her nerve and daring by wielding her only weapon, a hand bag, and striking down an insulting masher and knocking him into the gutter. The episode, as mentioned by the Spokane paper, is as follows:

That there is at least one young woman in Spokane who is fully able to care for herself was conclusively demonstrated Monday night by Miss Anna McGinnis, the 18-year-old daughter of J. F. McGinnis, a Hillyard merchant, 402 Prospect avenue, who was graduated from Our Lady of Lourdes academy Monday afternoon.

Monday evening, in company with another young woman, a school teacher, whose name she refused to divulge, Miss McGinnis attended the Auditorium theater, and after the performance was over she and her companion were standing near the Elks' temple waiting for a car to take them home, when they were accosted by a strange man. He stepped up to them with the remark: "Here is a girl for me."

No sooner had the masher uttered the words, however, than Miss McGinnis struck him in the face, knocking his hat off and sending him reeling into the gutter. Recovering himself he came back toward them, cursing, but the plucky girl stood her ground and struck him over the head with her handbag, at the same time remarking: "I will teach you to speak to women on the streets with whom you are not acquainted."

This proved sufficient punishment for the masher and he picked up his hat and joined his companion, who stood at a safe distance.

Asked if she was not frightened, Miss McGinnis replied: "No, I was so angry that I did not think of being frightened. In fact, the rat which ran across the stage while we were at the theater frightened me more than the man, and it was all over so quickly that I did not think of getting nervous until it was too late. I acted on the impulse of the moment, else I might have done differently, but I had often said if I ever got a chance to teach a masher a lesson I would not overlook the opportunity."

"The man and his companion passed us just after we left the theater, and after walking some distance ahead of us he turned back and came up to where we were. The other fellow did not say anything to us, but when I struck the hoodlum the second time he called to him to come on or the 'cop' would get him. If there had been a policeman near I would have appealed to him, but as there was none in sight I decided to protect myself."

Miss McGinnis refused for a time to tell her story, evidently feeling that she had done nothing sufficiently out of the ordinary to justify talking about it, but when it was suggested to her that she would be encouraging her more timid sisters to deal out merited punishment to mashers she finally consented.

WHAT'S UP WITH BRAINERD?

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

What is the matter with Brainerd? Your article last week in regard to the 4th of July, echoed the thoughts I had for years in regard to the want of patriotism and of interest in the welfare of our city on that day. It seems a disgrace for a city as large and wealthy as ours to let that day go by for years without a celebration, the more so when every little village and settlement around us does something. It looks as though our legislators and prominent men are doing everything to drive everything from our town instead of encouraging outsiders in, to enjoy a pleasant time with us on an old fashioned 4th like we used to have years ago when Brainerd was not as large or wealthy as it is now.

What is the matter with our Commercial club that they don't do something? They went in with a great flourish of trumpets of what they would do but it seems they have forgotten all about their promises and have become only a social club for their own amusement. This is an opportunity for them to get up something on the 4th. Let them join in with the Trades and Labor assembly and get up something to keep our people at home and I am sure our business men would subscribe if the money was expended in the town instead of taking it out.

I know the time is short, but with a little energy and money much can be done in the time.

Let us put our shoulders to the wheel and get up something and all would feel better satisfied, both old and young, at least that is the opinion of

AN OLD TIMER.

UNIVERSITY WEEK

Womens' Clubs, Drama and Dramatic League are Discussed—Illustrated Lecture Last Night

Thursday afternoon "Womens' Clubs and Civic Betterment" were ably discussed by Mrs. Elizabeth Atwood, of St. Cloud. The audience contained a large number of the prominent club women of the city, deeply interested in the thoughts and the arguments presented by the speaker. In the reading hour a reader from the Minneapolis school of music, oratory and dramatic art read selections. The industrial art exhibit was in charge of Mrs. Maurice I. Flagg.

The illustrated lecture "Art in Common Things," given by Maurice I. Flagg, director of the Minnesota State Art society, proved of great interest and especially attractive were the pictures shown.

This morning Dr. Alice Mott, principal of the model school of the state university, was the first speaker, her subject being, "The Human Being of High School Age." "Why Babies Die" was discussed by a trained nurse. "The Artistic Home" was the subject elaborated by Margaret Josephine Blair, director of the domestic art division of the college of agriculture.

This afternoon there is a varied program and in the evening another illustrated lecture. "How Minnesota Educates Her Children," is the subject of the address by Prof. A. W. Rankin, for 30 years actively engaged in the educational field in Minnesota.

GOLLMAR BROS. CIRCUS

To Show Afternoon and Evening in Brainerd Tomorrow, Saturday, June 22d

The shake-up to the nerves, the rag time beat of your heart, the fear that some one will be hurt with the accompanying apprehension that they may not, all of these are the delights of the Gollmar Brothers circus coming here tomorrow, Saturday, June 22d. Credit must be given to the professionals who shake dice for lives with fortune at every performance.

The Gollmar Brothers circus is high hygiene. It is a true American circus for American kids from "six" to "sixty." One of the big acts is the original Moro Family. What this wonderful family does, looks easy. Suppose you try it, and newspapers will write a story about it with a diagram showing the place where your body struck.

Another of the best-ever acts is the leaping contest. Fifty leapers take part. Charles LaRue the champion, does a double somersault over elephants, camels and horses. Many other big acts are presented in many new riding stunts.

You will see the Ben Hur herd of stallions and the Black Hussar horses perform. They prove what a perfect world this would be if all men had as much intelligence as horses. You will see elephants waltz, teach, play hide-and-seek, and undress and go to bed like people. You will see dog shows and mule shows and countless clowns. The Gollmar Brothers Circus is a great show, presenting magnificent good old barbarous sport that makes you happy in feeling that civilization has not eliminated all the traits your grand-dads of the stone age left you as a message.

If you have lost your boyhood spirits, courage and confidence of youth, we offer you new life, fresh courage, and freedom from ill-health in Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Greatest American medicine. 35c., tea or tabs. Skauge Drug Co. mwf

So light running that your "youngest" can now mow the lawn without help.

KEEN KUTTER Mowers are fast cutting and easy running because of the double gear and the fine ball bearings. A KEEN KUTTER will last longer than any mower on the market and is easily kept keen and sharp. To sharpen, merely reverse the blades and they sharpen themselves. A cheap mower will cost more in the end on account of repairs, will not do the work properly and will require twice as much labor.

Prices, $6.75 to $15.00.

Other Mowers from $3.00 up.

PINE KNOLL

Ross Lake played Cedar Brook at the Pine Knoll diamond Sunday, the score being 15 to 4 in favor of Ross
Lake. In spite of being beat twice, Cedar Brook has not yet given up hopes of defeating Ross Lake, but we hope that they will "placiate" a little before they try again. We also hope that they will get an extra pitcher
as they didn't have "many" the last time.

Mrs. Willie Benson arrived here last week to visit with her sister, Mrs. Gust Wenzel.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells and children and Susie Arnette visited with the Lords Sunday.

Mrs. Sawyer and Miss Mabel Rogers spent Sunday with Mrs. Frank Leonard.

week with her sister at Crystal Springs.

called at Terry's Thursday evening.
August Wenzel made a trip to Ait-kin Monday.

We hear that our old friend Frank Duchain is coming back. We think that everyone will be very pleased to see him.

ning with Jim Welton's.

Mrs. Terry called on her mother
Monday.

Mrs. Wells, Cordelia Keim and Susie Arnette spent Monday in Ait-

NEW FACES SEEN
IN CONVENTIONConspicuous Absence of Many of the Old-Timers.

GREATEST CHANGE IN NORTH

Appearance of Governor Johnson and Francis J. Heney Marks a New Era in the Politics of California—Senator Murray Crane As "Old Scout"— Ex-Congressman Tawney a Proxy.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Chicago, June 21.—[Special.] -- One of the most remarkable things about the Republican convention were the many new faces to be seen. For years the same men have been coming to the national conventions and so far as the southern states are concerned about the same crowd came to the convention of 1912. But in the northern states the change was very great.
There was a complete absence of many of the old time men and managers on the floor, although they have been in evidence in the preliminaries. The indications are that new men have taken hold of the party and intend to conduct its affairs in the future. No doubt the Roosevelt sweep in a number of states where old line Republicans were defeated has much to do with the changed complexion of the convention. It is certainly a transition period in politics.

Old and New.

The appearance of Governor Johnson and Francis J. Heney marks a new era in politics of California, although Governor Pardee has been seen here before. A woman in the delegation was also an innovation. Governor Deneen has been in national conventions from Illinois, but L. Y. Sherman, who is the nominee to succeed Senator Cullom, is a recent acquisition. Senator
Fairbanks, Harry New and Jim Watson of Indiana are familiar figures, but the remainder of the delegation are new men. George D. Perkins of Iowa is an old timer, and about the only one from that state. None of the Kansas delegation belonged to those who were regular convention attendants. Senator Bradley has been coming from Kentucky as long as any one can remember, and the same is true in regard to Chancey Depew of New York.
Governor Hadley is a new man from Missouri, but Walter Dickey has been to several conventions.

Lookers-On Familiar.

Thousand of old convention attendants in years past made their appearance in Chicago this week even if they were not delegates. They came to see the big show. They can't keep away from national conventions and even if they have no more to do than sit around the hotel lobbies and give advice which is not taken they come just the same. It is always in order to have present a few men who attended the first convention which nominated John C. Fremont back in 1856 given a prominent place in the convention, but they are not many of such veterans who can attend a gathering in 1912.

"An Old Scout."

Senator Murray Crane, during the long drawn out sessions of the national committee, obtained the name of "old scout," because he was ever watchful and kept on guard at all times. One day when something was coming up and several Taft members were absent Crane went into the lunch room and whispered to all the lawyers: "There is an important legal point involved in the question now up and I would like you to be there." That suggestion always brought them into the committee room. No matter how early the committee met or how late it remained in session Crane was on hand.

Climatic Changes.

The delegate who came to Chicago
with one suit good for winter or summer was the man who won out. The sudden climatic changes in this city on Lake Michigan make it impossible to dress for the weather. On some days
it is so warm that the northern man mops his brow all day, and the next morning the breeze from the lake whisks through the thin clothes of the southerner and makes him shiver.
Straw hats and overcoats are a frequent combination during convention
times in Chicago.

Jim Tawney Has the Nerve.

Former Congressman James A. Tawney held the proxy of different members of the national committee at different times during the preliminary contest. Generally they were of men who did not have quite so much nerve as Tawney and would have occasionally voted for the Roosevelt men. Tawney had his nerve with him all the time. He was willing to vote out every Roosevelt man who was contested, even going to the extent of throwing out California because the delegates were elected at large instead of by districts. Tawney and Roosevelt are implacable enemies.

Keep Out of Politics.

"A man with a law practice had better keep out of politics," is the conclusion of T. H. Devine, who held a proxy on the national committee for Colorado, and was a delegate from that state. "Nearly every man that goes in for politics to the extent of getting and holding office is sure to lose his business and in the end comes out a disappointed man."

At the same time many men like to leave a record of honorable service in important positions. There are others who think there is money in office, but are often mistaken.

He Knew Too Much.

A curious Malayan legend says that in olden times the waters surrounding Singapore were so infested with swordfish as to make it impossible for the fishermen to pursue their daily task. A boy advised the rajah to let down into the water freshly peeled stems of the banana plant, and, this being done, the fish imbedded their swords in the stems and were easily killed. The boy genius was considered a danger to the throne, and he was executed lest he grow up and become a conspirator.

LESS BOWEL TROUBLE

IN BRAINERD

Brainerd people have found out that a SINGLE DOSE of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as compounded in Adler-i-ka, the German apendicitis remedy, relieves constipation, sour stomach or gas on the stomach INSTANTLY. This simple mixture antisepticizes the digestive organs and draws off the impurities and it is surprising how QUICKLY it helps. Johnson's Pharmacy.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the New Drug

An eminent skin specialist recently discovered a new drug, othine-double strength, which is so uniformly successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any first class druggist under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil;
get an ounce of othine and remove them.
Even the first night's use will show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely. It is absolutely harmless, and cannot injure the most tender skin.

Be sure to ask for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.
